RE: Paul Dulberg

Dear Mr. Mast,

Mr. Dulberg was previously seen by my associate, Dr. Mitchell Grobman, in 2002 for left ulnar neuropathy, and had surgery and essentially became asymptomatic by 2007 and who had never had difficulty in his right arm. Approximately a month prior to the evaluation, he had been holding a branch for a neighbor when the chainsaw came up and cut his right forearm. He was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center where they put in inner stitches in the muscle and outer stitches. He originally had very significant pain, but as the pain was getting better, he started noticing that he had numbness in his fifth digit in the inner aspect of his forearm. He had not been dropping things. It was mostly just a tingling and a numb feeling. He denies ever having any right-sided symptoms or rightsided injuries. His examination was significant for a healing scar in the right forearm and for decreased light touch, pinprick, and temperature sensation in the ulnar distribution of the right arm. His strength was normal. Given the distribution, it was felt that this was a branch neuropathy to the sensory nerves. I did have him undergo nerve conductions to make sure that the median and ulnar nerves were all without involvement and they were. I recommended that he see a hand surgeon as well just to be certain that there were no other treatment options for him; however, most likely this was just a sensory branch neuropathy that may improve or may result in permanent numbness in the distribution that he was showing numbness. Mr. Dulberg should followup if any additional symptoms develop or if he wished to try any neuropathic pain treatment if it became painful and not just numb.

Sincerely,

(avin, MI) (mdm) Karen F. Levin, M.D.

RE: Paul Dulberg

Dear Mr. Mast,

Mr. Dulberg was previously seen by my associate, Dr. Mitchell Grobman, in 2002 for left ulnar neuropathy, and had surgery and essentially became asymptomatic by 2007 and who had never had difficulty in his right arm. Approximately a month prior to the evaluation, he had been holding a branch for a neighbor when the chainsaw came up and cut his right forearm. He was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center where they put in inner stitches in the muscle and outer stitches. He originally had very significant pain, but as the pain was getting better, he started noticing that he had numbness in his fifth digit in the inner aspect of his forearm. He had not been dropping things. It was mostly just a tingling and a numb feeling. He denies ever having any right-sided symptoms or rightsided injuries. His examination was significant for a healing scar in the right forearm and for decreased light touch, pinprick, and temperature sensation in the ulnar distribution of the right arm. His strength was normal. Given the distribution, it was felt that this was a branch neuropathy to the sensory nerves. I did have him undergo nerve conductions to make sure that the median and ulnar nerves were all without involvement and they were. I recommended that he see a hand surgeon as well just to be certain that there were no other treatment options for him; however, most likely this was just a sensory branch neuropathy that may improve or may result in permanent numbness in the distribution that he was showing numbness. Mr. Dulberg should followup if any additional symptoms develop or if he wished to try any neuropathic pain treatment if it became painful and not just numb.

Sincerely,

Karen F. Levin, M.D.

RE: Paul Dulberg

Dear Mr. Mast,

Mr. Dulberg was previously seen by my associate, Dr. Mitchell Grobman, in 2002 for left ulnar neuropathy, and had surgery and essentially became asymptomatic by 2007 and who had never had difficulty in his right arm. Approximately a month prior to the evaluation, he had been holding a branch for a neighbor when the chainsaw came up and cut his right forearm. He was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center where they put in inner stitches in the muscle and outer stitches. He originally had very significant pain, but as the pain was getting better, he started noticing that he had numbness in his fifth digit in the inner aspect of his forearm. He had not been dropping things. It was mostly just a tingling and a numb feeling. He denies ever having any right-sided symptoms or rightsided injuries. His examination was significant for a healing scar in the right forearm and for decreased light touch, pinprick, and temperature sensation in the ulnar distribution of the right arm. His strength was normal. Given the distribution, it was felt that this was a branch neuropathy to the sensory nerves. I did have him undergo nerve conductions to make sure that the median and ulnar nerves were all without involvement and they were. I recommended that he see a hand surgeon as well just to be certain that there were no other treatment options for him; however, most likely this was just a sensory branch neuropathy that may improve or may result in permanent numbness in the distribution that he was showing numbness. Mr. Dulberg should followup if any additional symptoms develop or if he wished to try any neuropathic pain treatment if it became painful and not just numb.

Sincerely,

Karen F. Levin, M.D.

Interpretation: NCV: Motor: Right median and ulnar motor responses are within normal limits. F-wave: Right median and ulnar f-waves are within normal limits. Sensory: Right median and ulnar responses are within normal limits.

EMG: No denervation potentials are seen.

Conclusions: No electrophysiologic evidence of focal or diffuse peripheral neuropathy.

PHYSICIAN: LEVIN, MD, KAREN

EXAM:

MR FOREARM W/ AND

W/O 73220

DOS: 02/03/2012

EXAMINATION: MRI examination of the right forearm without and with intravenous contrast

CLINICAL HISTORY: History of right forearm trauma with a chainsaw. Possible neuroma, nerve impingement or injury in the forearm. Possible tendon disruption. It appears that the patient had some difficulty holding still during image acquisition. There is motion artifact on this examination. Weakness in the fourth and fifth fingers. Pain in the forearm and hand.

TECHNIQUE: Multiplanar T1 and T2-weighted spin-echo pulse sequences and STIR sequence. Post-infusion multiplanar T1-weighted sequences were performed. A skin marker was taped to the point of maximal symptoms.

Contrast: 15 cc of gadolinium was infused.

FINDINGS: There is no bone abnormality seen. The bone marrow signal characteristics are

There is no cystic or solid mass appreciated. The visualized muscles have normal signal

There is no abnormal soft tissue infiltration or induration. Specifically, in the area of the skin marker which is marking the point of maximal symptoms, there is no soft tissue abnormality appreciated.

There is no abnormality identified along the course of the ulnar nerve in the forearm.

IMPRESSION: There is no forearm abnormality appreciated. This does not exclude the possibility of an ulnar nerve impingement or injury but there is no gross mass or abnormal infiltration along the expected course of the ulnar nerve. No obvious tendon or muscle abnormality appreciated at this time.

Mr. Hans Mast 3416 W. Elm Street McHenry, IL 60050

RE: Paul Dulberg

Dear Mr. Mast,

Mr. Dulberg was previously seen by my associate, Dr. Mitchell Grobman, in 2002 for left ulnar neuropathy, and had surgery and essentially became asymptomatic by 2007 and who had never had difficulty in his right arm. Approximately a month prior to the evaluation, he had been holding a branch for a neighbor when the chainsaw came up and cut his right forearm. He was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center where they put in inner stitches in the muscle and outer stitches. He originally had very significant pain, but as the pain was getting better, he started noticing that he had numbress in his fifth digit in the inner aspect of his forearm. He had not been dropping things. It was mostly just a tingling and a numb feeling. He denies ever having any right-sided symptoms or rightsided injuries. His examination was significant for a healing scar in the right forearm and for decreased light touch, pinprick, and temperature sensation in the ulnar distribution of the right arm. His strength was normal. Given the distribution, it was felt that this was a branch neuropathy to the sensory nerves. I did have him undergo nerve conductions to make sure that the median and ulnar nerves were all without involvement and they were. I recommended that he see a hand surgeon as well just to be certain that there were no other treatment options for him; however, most likely this was just a sensory branch neuropathy that may improve or may result in permanent numbness in the distribution that he was showing numbness. Mr. Dulberg should followup if any additional symptoms develop or if he wished to try any neuropathic pain treatment if it became painful and not just numb.

Sincerely,

Evin, Mi) Karen F. Levin, M.D.

Thanks for the call Brad. I wish you luck on this one. I recall that we have a case from a former client of yours Mr. Frank Cavanaugh. His case is a bit complicated as well. Do you want to just have a mutual agreement that our fee will be waived for Dolberg and your fee will be waived for Cavanaugh. Please advise.

As to our costs, it is understood that our costs will be fully reimbursed at the time of any settlement or recovery but that at this point prior to settlement you will pay us approx 50% of our costs which equals $1,500 (I will confirm the exact number shortly)

Please confirm.

Hans

On December 31, 2011, a fire broke out at the Higgins Brothers warehouse located at 1428 W. 37th St. in Chicago's Back of the Yards neighborhood. The Chicago Fire Department's Office of Fire Prevention investigated the cause of the fire, and determined that the point of origin was on the first floor of the warehouse where an MIG welder had been used the day before to fabricate a new filter wall for a paint spray booth operated at the warehouse facility. The welding was performed by David Suarez, the owner of deft Associated Services. Higgins Brothers and its insurer, Illinois Emcasco, sued deft to recover the cost of property damage repairs and associated expenses. Illinois Emcasco sought $662,572 paid out for damage to the building, $300,000 for business personal property, and $90,000 extra expenses, for a total of $1,052,572. Higgins sought $1,000 for its deductible on building damage, $21,465 for loss of business personal property, and $1,233 extra expenses, for a total of $23,698. The defense argued that even if a spark from the welding arc was the ignition source of the fire, the fire's actual cause and fuel source was paint overspray which had accumulated up to five inches in the rear plenum of the paint spray booth. The defense denied negligence, contended Higgins Brothers was at fault for not having sufficient clearance between the booth's chimney and the combustible wooden second floor above, and further maintained that Higgins was negligent in not having an operable sprinkler system over the paint spray booth.

December 9, 2011, pltf driving westbound on Lake St. in Chicago contended deft Velazquez struck his vehicle near Kilbourn Ave. while trying to pass him on his left side and crossing over into oncoming traffic, forcing pltf into a pole. Pltf M-48 claimed neck, back and shoulder soft tissue injuries ($12,339 medical expenses, $1,900 property damage). Pltf further brought a negligent entrustment claim against deft car owner Gonzalez because Velazquez did not have a driver's license. Deft M-30 landscaper Velazquez denied he changed lanes and maintained pltf hit him while coming from his right side. The defense denied pltf was injured. The jury reportedly deliberated only 20 minutes.

Re:

Paul R. Dulberg

Bankruptcy Case No. 14 83578

Dear Attorney Balke:

Following up on matters we recently discussed, the Bankruptcy Estate seeks to employ you to assist the Estate in pursuing Mr. Dulberg's pending personal injury claim.

It is my understanding that you do not have a conflict of interest, and that you can represent the Bankruptcy Estate. As a caution, I enclose a copy of Debtor's list of creditors (Schedules D through F). In light of this information, if you do not have a conflict, I would be most appreciative if you would review the enclosed Affidavit of Disinterest for accuracy and completeness.

Also, please know if you are able to settle the pending personal injury claim, before any settlement can be finalized, I will need to file with the Bankruptcy Court a motion approving the Debtor's settlement, along with approval of the payment of your attorney fees and costs, and the fees to be paid to any third party. In that motion and order, we can ask that your firm's fees and costs and any third party fees paid out of the gross proceeds, with the net proceeds tendered to the Estate.

Very truly yours,

PLAINTIFF'S PRE-TRIAL SETTLEMENT MEMORANDUM

Statement of the Case

On June 28, 2011, the Plaintiff, Paul Dulberg, was assisting friend/Defendant David Gagnon, with cutting down an evergreen tree at the home of Gagnon's parents, 1016 W. Elder Avenue, in McHenry, and as Dulberg held down onto a limb, Gagnon swiped his right forearm with the chain saw causing a deep laceration, resulting in a nerve injury.

Dulberg testified that the accident occurred when the defendant walked toward him while cutting a branch he was holding. The limb was large and part of it was resting on the ground. The defendant walked toward Dulberg with the chainsaw pointing down at a 45 degree angle. The chain was not moving. Then Paul heard the chain saw RPM's ramp up. This alerted Dulberg and he dropped the branch. Paul released the limb before the chain saw came in contact with it. The defendant came up with the saw at a 45 degree pointing up and cut Dulberg. The Defendant never made contact with the branch. David had one hand on the arm and the other on the trigger of the chainsaw. His arm and his two fingers are painful all the way through to the elbow, including the pinky, ring finger and thumb. There is a fiery burning sensation, tingling. The cold also bothers his arm. Sometimes when he is resting his arm he has pain and tingling and burning in the arm. Grabbing things and moving his arm does cause pain. Dr. Sagerman did surgery in July, 2012 to remove the scar tissue. Paul is still receiving physical therapy for his left arm. His right arm is doing better. All of Paul's fingers are affected when he grasps things. He experiences burning pain in his right arm where the scar tissue was. He was given anti-inflammatories from his doctor. He stated he tries not to use them. On his right arm, he is unable to bend his pinky all the way in. Dr. Sagerman told him that nerve damage takes a long time to heal.

Gagnon testified that Dulberg was holding the branch with his left arm and reaching to hold the branch with his right arm when Dulberg's arm was struck by the chainsaw. He admits Dulberg was reaching for the branch so that he could hold on to the lower end of the branch and keep it steady while Gagnon was cutting the limbs from the branch (suggesting Gagnon was operating the chain saw knowing Dulberg was 'repositioning" his arm - contrary to the instructions of the manual) Gagnon acknowledged in his deposition to giving a recorded statement to Plaintiff's counsel in which he described the accident as follows:

...we got to a branch that maybe we shouldn't have tried to cut, it was a little flimsy, so when I hit the crotch it flexed.."

See Xerox photos of chain saw, diagram of "tree," and Plaintiff's injury - attached as Group Exhibit "1."

The chain saw was owned by Gagnon's father, Bill McGuire. Gagnon had used the chainsaw the day before on his own, while trimming the trees. The chainsaw manual provides, in part, as follows:

Chainsaw Manual:

Basic Safety Precautions:

Read this manual carefully until you completely understand and can follow all safety rules, precautions, and operating instructions before attempting to use the unit.

Keep children, bystanders, and animals a minimum of 35 feet (10 meters) away from the work area. Do not allow other people or animals to be near the chain saw when starting or operating the chain saw. (Fig. 2)

Only loan your saw to expert users who are completely familiar with saw operation and correct use. Give other users the manual with operating instructions, which they have to read before using the saw.

Keep all parts of your body away from the saw chain when the engine is running.

Apply the chain brake prior to any repositioning of the operator in the cutting area.

Do not operate the chain saw with one hand! Serious injury to the operator, helpers, bystanders, or any combination of these persons may result from one-handed operation. A chain saw is intended for two-handed use.

Always begin cutting with the engine at full speed and the saw housing against the wood.

Medical

Dr. Karen Levin, at Associated Neurology, saw Dulberg on 7/28/11 (1 month after accident) and in her report (attached as Exhibit "2") states... that Dulberg had no prior history on the right arm, and that as a result of the accident Dulberg suffered a cut on the right forearm requiring stitching in the muscle and outer area. When the pain diminished, there was numbness and tingling noticed in the forearm and digits. She believed Dulberg was suffering from brach neuropathy to the sensory nerves. She referred him to a hand surgeon.

Dulberg saw Dr. Marcus Talerico (Mid America) for ongoing forearm pain. His visits were December 2, 2011 and January 6, 2012. Dr. Talerico did not feel there was any significant nerve involvement and referred Dulberg for therapy.

Dulberg next saw Dr. Scott Sagerman, who testified that he first saw Dulberg on 2/27/12 with a history of a large scar on the mid forearm with pain and symptoms including muscle pain and weakness in gripping and pulling things in his forearm are related to the accident. Dulberg suffered a deep laceration to his forearm and there was some injury to those muscles and nerves which may have been causing the pain in that area. He diagnosed Dulberg with a right forearm laceration with possible ulnar nerve issues and damage. The EMG/NCV was normal. He performed a surgery to the forearm on 7/9/12 to - in part - remove scarring (and for cubital tunnel release). (Sagerman records are attached as Exhibit "3")

Dulberg next saw Dr. Kathy Kujawa for post traumatic dystonia of the right hand, and she recommended Botox injections for spasms. She believed the involuntary spasms as well as the pain that Dulberg continued to suffer was due to the nerve damage and nerve issues directly to the chainsaw accident. She felt it would be permanent and Dulberg would need expensive medical treatment to have a decent quality of life.

Plaintiff's medical expenses are itemized in the attached Medical Expense Report in the amount of $58,387.33 (Attached as Exhibit "4")

The defendant walked toward Dulberg with the chainsaw pointing down at a 45 degree angle. The chain was not moving. Then Paul heard the chain saw RPM's ramp up. This alerted Dulberg and he dropped the branch. Paul released the limb before the chain saw came in contact with it. The defendant came up with the saw at a 45 degree pointing up and cut Dulberg. The Defendant never made contact with the branch. David had one hand on the arm and the other on the trigger of the chainsaw. His arm and his two fingers are painful all the way through to the elbow, including the pinky, ring finger and thumb. There is a fiery burning sensation, tingling. The cold also bothers his arm. Sometimes when he is resting his arm he has pain and tingling and burning in the arm. Grabbing things and moving his arm does cause pain. Dr. Sagerman did surgery in July, 2012 to remove the scar tissue. Paul is still receiving physical therapy for his left arm. His right arm is doing better. All of Paul's fingers are affected when he grasps things. He experiences burning pain in his right arm where the scar tissue was. He was given anti-inflammatories from his doctor. He stated he tries not to use them. On his right arm, he is unable to bend his pinky all the way in. Dr. Sagerman told him that nerve damage takes a long time to heal.

Gagnon testified that Dulberg was holding the branch with his left arm and reaching to hold the branch with his right arm when Dulberg's arm was struck by the chainsaw. He admits Dulberg was reaching for the branch so that he could hold on to the lower end of the branch and keep it steady while Gagnon was cutting the limbs from the branch (suggesting Gagnon was operating the chain saw knowing Dulberg was 'repositioning" his arm - contrary to the instructions of the manual) Gagnon acknowledged in his deposition to giving a recorded statement to Plaintiff's counsel in which he described the accident as follows:

...we got to a branch that maybe we shouldn't have tried to cut, it was a little flimsy, so when I hit the crotch it flexed.."

See Xerox photos of chain saw, diagram of "tree," and Plaintiff's injury - attached as Group Exhibit "1."

The chain saw was owned by Gagnon's father, Bill McGuire. Gagnon had used the chainsaw the day before on his own, while trimming the trees. The chainsaw manual provides, in part, as follows:

Chainsaw Manual:

Basic Safety Precautions:

Read this manual carefully until you completely understand and can follow all safety rules, precautions, and operating instructions before attempting to use the unit.

Keep children, bystanders, and animals a minimum of 35 feet (10 meters) away from the work area. Do not allow other people or animals to be near the chain saw when starting or operating the chain saw. (Fig. 2)

Only loan your saw to expert users who are completely familiar with saw operation and correct use. Give other users the manual with operating instructions, which they have to read before using the saw.

Keep all parts of your body away from the saw chain when the engine is running.

Apply the chain brake prior to any repositioning of the operator in the cutting area.

Do not operate the chain saw with one hand! Serious injury to the operator, helpers, bystanders, or any combination of these persons may result from one-handed operation. A chain saw is intended for two-handed use.

Always begin cutting with the engine at full speed and the saw housing against the wood.

Medical

Dr. Karen Levin, at Associated Neurology, saw Dulberg on 7/28/11 (1 month after accident) and in her report (attached as Exhibit "2") states . . . that Dulberg had no prior history on the right arm, and that as a result of the accident Dulberg suffered a cut on the right forearm requiring stitching in the muscle and outer area. When the pain diminished, there was numbness and tingling noticed in the forearm and digits. She believed Dulberg was suffering from brach neuropathy to the sensory nerves. She referred him to a hand surgeon.

Dulberg saw Dr. Marcus Talerico (Mid America) for ongoing forearm pain. His visits were December 2, 2011 and January 6, 2012. Dr. Talerico did not feel there was any significant nerve involvement and referred Dulberg for therapy.

Dulberg next saw Dr. Scott Sagerman, who testified that he first saw Dulberg on 2/27/12 with a history of a large scar on the mid forearm with pain and symptoms including muscle pain and weakness in gripping and pulling things in his forearm are related to the accident. Dulberg suffered a deep laceration to his forearm and there was some injury to those muscles and nerves which may have been causing the pain in that area. He diagnosed Dulberg with a right forearm laceration with possible ulnar nerve issues and damage. The EMG/NCV was normal. He performed a surgery to the forearm on 7/9/12 to - in part - remove scarring (and for cubital tunnel release). (Sagerman records are attached as Exhibit "3")

Dulberg next saw Dr. Kathy Kujawa for post traumatic dystonia of the right hand, and she recommended Botox injections for spasms. She believed the involuntary spasms as well as the pain that Dulberg continued to suffer was due to the nerve damage and nerve issues directly to the chainsaw accident. She felt it would be permanent and Dulberg would need expensive medical treatment to have a decent quality of life.

Plaintiff's medical expenses are itemized in the attached Medical Expense Report in the amount of $58,387.33 (Attached as Exhibit "4")

Re:

Your File: Paul Dulberg v. David Gagnon, et al

My File: Bankruptcy Estate of Paul Dulberg; Case No. 14-82297

Dear Attorney Mast:

Thank you for the information you sent on January 23rd. At this point in time, I am unable to determine if my bankruptcy case may be an asset case. (If it might be an asset case, my Estate needs to retain you to continue the pending pi case -- assuming you can be and want to be retained.)

I received from you a list of medical bills (which bills total over $58,000.) In addition, I just received from Debtor's counsel a copy of a letter from US Phy, by which this creditor claims a medical lien.

Can you please advise:

- 1) What is the total amount of medical liens filed against the pending pi case? (I received a copy of a document, listing medical bills totaling $58,387.33, but I don't know if any of these bills are unpaid and, if so, if the unpaid providers timely filed a medical lien).
- 2) As to the medical lien apparently claimed by US Phy (via its letter of January 8, 2015 a copy of which is attached for your ready reference) is this letter the first lien claim it made against the personal injury cause of action? If so, based upon the little research I've done, to date, I don't think this letter is sufficient to claim a lien -- post-bankruptcy filing -- on Debtor's right to recover in his pi case. (It may be that I need to file something in the bankruptcy case to cause this lien to be removed. Investigation continues.)

3) Once I know the above facts, I will need to know the potential range of recovery, and, assuming the potential recovery is large enough, if you want to be retained by the Bankruptcy Estate to continue to represent the Debtor/Estate in the pending personal injury cause of action.

I look forward to hearing from you again soon.

Very truly yours,

RE: Bankruptcy Estate of Paul Dulberg, Case No. 14-82297

Dear Ms. Heeg:

I received your recent correspondence. I am currently representing Paul Dulberg for injuries he suffered when his arm was struck by a chainsaw on June 28, 2011. We are in the midst of discovery. There is no scheduled trial date. At this point, the defense is taking a "no liability" position and therefore, the chance of recovery is uncertain. I believe liability will be extremely difficult. We have calculated Paul's medical expense related to the occurrence as exceeding $60,000. To my knowledge, most of the medical expense is outstanding. However, my belief is that any eventual recovery will be much less.

I will be pursuing settlement negotiations. I am not sure at this time how this case will end up. Happy to speak with you at your convenience.

Very truly yours,

HANS A. MAST

My File: Bankruptcy Estate of Paul Dulberg; Case No. 14-82297

Dear Attorney Popovich:

Paul R. Dulberg filed a Chapter 7 bankruptcy petition on November 26, 2014, and I was assigned as Trustee. (A copy of the Notice of bankruptcy filing is attached for your ready reference.) As Trustee, I am duty bound to collect the Bankruptcy Estate's assets for the benefit of the Debtor's unsecured creditors.

One of the assets of Mr. Dulberg's Bankruptcy Estate is his interest in the personal injury cause of action pending in McHenry County, Illinois. Please note the Bankruptcy Estate's interest in your records.

Debtor has provided to me a copy of the Complaint, but nothing more. At this time, can you please "pull out your crystal ball" and estimate for my Estate the possible result of the pending litigation, the possible timing of its resolution, the extent of any medical liens, and the likely finally distribution to debtor? Also, if the case has sufficient worth, it may be best if the Bankruptcy Estate retains you and your firm to continue the representation (for the benefit of the Bankruptcy Estate.)

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thomas J. Popovich, P.C.

PAIN MANAGEMENT AFTER DISCHARGE:

A person may feel less pain just by being in familiar surroundings. Here are some frequently asked questions about your pain management:

- What can! do to help my pain management? A person's level of relaxation and their environment can affect their pain. If you are tired, over stimulated (too many visitors) are anxious about your diagnosis, or a past experience with a hospitalization, your pain perception may be impacted and your tolerance decreased. Ask questions, and inform us about any problems or concerns that you may have, re: pain. Partner with your health team for your best pain management.
- What if the medication is not working? Tell your health-care provider; physician, home health nurse, etc. You may need a different dose or type of medication.
- What if I feel I'm not getting enough pain control? Talk to your physician or home heelth nurse about it. Together you may be able to develop a pian to prevent or ease your pain. Depending on the cause of your pain, your health-care provider may suggest exercise, use of heat/cold, massage, repositioning, immobilization of the effected part, or distraction such as music or rest.
- There are other methods of pain management. Let your health-care provider assist you in finding the best one for you.

Weight management is one step to help maintain a healthy lifestyle. For certain medical problems, such as congestive heart failure, weight should be monitored daily.

YOU ARE THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTOR IN YOUR RECOVERY.

Follow the above instructions carefully. Take your medicines as prescribed. Most important, see a doctor again as discussed.

If you have problems that we have not discussed, or your problem changes or gets worse. Call or visit your doctor right away. If you cannot reach your doctor, return to the Emergency Department immediately.

Centegra Health System is very concerned about your safety and well being.
