

T Kost <tkost999@gmail.com>

Talarico latest claims in email dated 1/17/2024

1 message

Paul Dulberg <Paul_Dulberg@comcast.net>

Thu, Jan 18, 2024 at 10:47 AM

To: Tom Kost <tkost999@gmail.com>

Tom,

In the email to you on 1/17/2024 Mr Talarico claims to only have 2 emails for me and they are both rejecting what he sent you.

Only 2 emails on me is not true. Talarico has the following email addresses on me:

Paul_Dulberg@comcast.netpdulberg@comcast.netpdulberg@icloud.compauldulberg@gmail.com

And he has Mom's email as well:

dulbergbarb@gmail.com

All of which he knows I get and we have used for various file transfers in the past.

It is true that I have not received a copy of the email he sent to you however;

1. Mr Talarico is well aware that pdulberg@icloud.com cannot receive large file sizes but is better at sending links to download very large file sizes sent to him.

Likewise

2. Mr Talarico is also aware that both @comcast.net accounts can receive large file sizes but even Comcast has limits.

If

3. Mr Talarico is sending one email with several files that total an amount of data that is rejected by the Comcast mail servers than Mr Talarico should have either compressed the several files into a single compressed zip file to make it smaller or sent each file alone in separate emails as he has had to do in the past.

Or

4. Mr Talarico could simply compile the entire case file and all work product for each case onto thumb drives and make them available for pickup or physically mail it to Dulberg along with a detailed billing/accounting of all the money he has received and spent as a good attorney should do once he has resigned.

It should be noted that I have never blocked Mr Talarico from any form of communication and have been waiting patiently to hear directly from him about this withdrawal. I have been waiting since his first claim that I blocked his phone calls. To this Day Mr Talarico has never communicated his decision to withdraw as counsel to Dulberg but rather makes false claims of being blocked as an excuse to only communicate with Thomas Kost.

Tom, you told me that your own Gmail can't seem to forward me the email Talarico sent to you and that you have never seen this size limit issue in your gmail account.

Please take the time to download the very large attachments Talarico emailed to you and either upload them to the website so I may see them or try sending the attachments to my Comcast account one at a time.

Thank you,
Paul