Dear Mr Talarico,

After the Judges warnings to me I am afraid to speak up about what I notice wrong about the actual wording.

But, I am going to point out to you and you alone that Page 8 Line 1 has "MR. FLYNN:" as the speaker and if my memory serves me correctly, this should be you.

As far as anything else my memory or hand written notes say, I will keep quiet since it's just not reasonable that written notes or human memory can remember anything significant other than what the court reporter writes unless the human has recorded it.

If you need this corrected you have the court reporters email address below.

Paul
