Have you talked with the trustee?

My understanding was its over and that if I felt strongly about paying those I owed I still could but wasn't required to anymore.

If it turns out the suit is still in play for the bankruptcy I wonder why the order from the court I sent you doesn't list the suit as an exemption from the order. On the back of the order it details what the exemptions listed on the front mean and my order didn't have any exemptions listed.

Either way it doesn't matter.

My thoughts are, if we get enough to pay the debts all the better.
Perhaps we can get enough to undo the bankruptcy altogether.
Would be nice not having a bankruptcy on the record.

Thanks again,
Paul

To use a different example, let's say you had a non-liquid asset like a rare piece of art. When you file your BK, the trustee doesn't just let you walk away with it, but rather retains an interest in it, until you can take it to an auction. (The case is the same, you still have to pay back the trustee to the extent you can once proceeds from the "sale" are realized.)

I don't understand because I do still have real estate after the bankruptcy and I was told I'm now free to refinance it, sell it or keep it so I'm not sure I get the point but ok I guess

The photo is sufficient. Awaiting a call from the trustee. No, the 15k limit is still in force since the case is a recognized asset of yours. Think of it like having real estate, but not selling until after the BK. The asset would still be yours, albeit in a different form.

Hi Brad,
I sent you a photo of the discharge order from the bankruptcy yesterday.
Is the photo sufficient or do I still need to go to Donahue's office and get you a copy?

Also, reading the discharge order it seems to me that the bankruptcy is over and I've been discharged from all debt.
If that is so, doesn't that mean there is no 15k limit anymore?

Below I have attached another photo of the discharge order.

Thanks again,
Paul
