

THE RULES OF THE GAME OF ‘LEGAL MOUSE TRAP’:

Your own attorney is allowed to intentionally harm you without limits.

At the same time:

1) No Illinois official will ever admit that your attorney ever acted in that way (It never happened)

or

2) It is considered a private matter between the client and the attorney

THE GAME DYNAMICS: CAN YOU GET OUT OF THIS ‘LEGAL MOUSE TRAP’?

YOU FACE AT LEAST 3 MAJOR OBSTACLES:

Obstacle #1) Can you get any Judge or ARDC investigator to admit that your own attorneys keep intentionally harming you?

Obstacle #2) Can you get any judge or ARDC investigator to admit that your attorney repeatedly harming you is done to benefit opposing parties?

Obstacle #3) Can you retain an attorney or law firm under these conditions?

In the Dulberg cases the answers are “no” and “no” and “no”, so Dulberg can never escape from the ‘Mouse Trap’.

CONSEQUENCES OF THE ‘LEGAL MOUSE TRAP’:

1) Your attorney can intentionally harm you endlessly and none of the acts are ever acknowledged by any Judge or ARDC official in Illinois

2) Opposing parties can never be touched or accused of anything

The connection will never be made between the expressions: “Your attorney intentionally harmed you” and “for the benefit of opposing counsel”

Catch 22. The trap is inescapable.
